We are Perkbox

Nice to meet you...we're a bunch of culture enthusiasts with a suite of products dedicated to enhancing employee experiences.

"We believe that happy and engaged employees perform better and stick around longer.

Our platform caters for the whole employee experience, helping to build happier, more productive company cultures. Perkbox is all about making employees feel genuinely cared for, both at work and in life."

SAURAV CHOPRA, CO-FOUNDER & CEO, PERKBOX

The average person spends a third of their time at work.

At Perkbox, we believe employers are responsible for empowering their people to lead fulfilling lives, whether they're on the job, or off the clock.

To that end, we created Perkbox, one unified platform that enhances every stage of the employee experience, through:

- Perks and benefits
- Reward and recognition
- Employee feedback and insight

And we've picked up a few awards along the way...

What we do

We've taken all the things that make winning company cultures – perks, employee feedback, reward and recognition – and packaged them into one easy to use platform.

PERKS

Perks

From learning facilities, life's essentials and luxuries, our perks help your employees' pay cheques go further while boosting your employee value proposition (EVP).

Free perks

Access to totally free perks including a free coffee and gelato each month from Australia's favourite independent merchants, as well as regular limited-time free perks to surprise and delight your team.

Exclusive discounts

With heaps of exclusive perks from big-name brands that your team can use daily on food and drink, high street shopping, entertainment, travel and loads more.

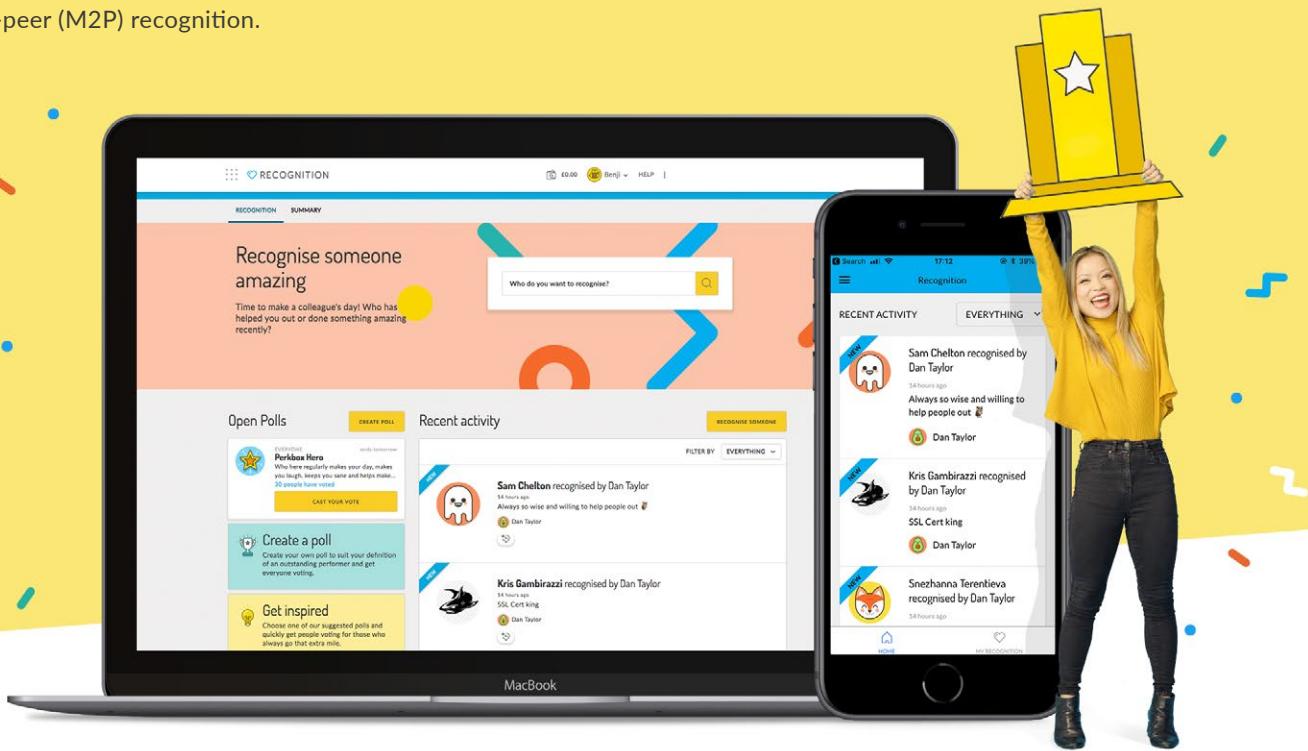

Seasonal perks

Access seasonal perks, whether it's flight discounts for your adventures abroad or decorations for Christmas.

RECOGNITION

Improve your company culture by recognising achievements on our mobile app and website through peer-to-peer (P2P) and management-to-peer (M2P) recognition.

Reward and recognition

Rewarding and recognising high performance is crucial in the creation of winning company cultures. It's estimated that employee engagement, productivity and customer service are 14% higher in organisations where R&R takes place.

Polls

'Polls' draw attention to achievements that people may otherwise not see. Both managers and employees can set-up polls to encourage a range of skills – from innovation to collaboration.

Employees are asked to vote for the person they believe has excelled in a specific area – these can be aligned with organisational goals and values, or just for fun.

Spotlight

'Spotlight' lets managers showcase and reward outstanding employee contributions. Not only is this a powerful way to reward and incentivise high performance, it also allows managers to reinforce company values.

Rewards

Rewards can be added to both Spotlights and Polls to suit any budget.

Popular examples include vouchers for brands such as JB Hi-Fi and Hoyts, though there's no limit to how big or creative you can go. (Does anyone in your team deserve a skydive..?)

We look after the whole process for you - say goodbye to your paper vouchers, excel spreadsheets and messy fulfillment processes.
